

The Interior Journal.

E. C. WALTON

In his appointment of a permanent Headquarters Committee, Senator Thomas A. Combs has shown his usual discernment. They are N. Powell Taylor, of Henderson, Jere A. Sullivan, of Richmond, William Addams, of Cynthiana, H. M. Cox, of West Liberty, and Woodson May, of Somerset. Headquarters will be at Lexington and the committee will meet at once to organize and perfect a line of action. The Senator's announcement that he will not be a candidate for governor or any other State office, and that the committee will not engage in promoting any man's candidacy, are reassuring. They will labor for the good of the party alone, without axes to grind or slates to make. We are glad that the headquarters will be in a democratic city. Louisville's behavior has nearly put her beyond the pale of democratic recuperation.

The likeness of Jefferson Davis engraved upon the silver service presented by the people of Mississippi to the battleship named for her, has thrown some of the G. A. R. camps into convulsions, but it is foolish and reprehensible. Mr. Davis was Mississippi's greatest statesman and if the people who knew him best want to honor him in this way, it is their business alone. If Mr. Roosevelt could order Mr. Davis' name, recorded on the bridge at Washington, built while he was secretary of war under Pierce, which had been chiseled off by order of another president, surely the great men of the G. A. R. might restrain their silly indignation. It is both puerile and idiotic.

THERE is some consolation drawn from history in the fact that in revising the tariff upward, instead of downward as promised in their platform, the republicans are digging their own graves. Following the passage of the McKinley tariff they were beaten in the Congressional elections worse than ever before in their history, and two years later the country elected a democratic president, a number of republican States giving him their electoral votes. The complete disregard of platforms and the total ignoring of the masses in order to swell the plethoric pocketbooks of the classes may make history repeat itself and cause good to come out of evil.

TWENTY-FIVE years ago, that is in 1884, it cost each man, woman and child $6.00 to run the government. To-day it is costing $11.55, or about $1 per month, with the population over doubled. In that year Congress appropriated $290,461,275.08; the appropriations of the last Congress foot up $1,044,411,857.12. This Congress also erected 10,120 offices with an increase of salaries of $5,672,009. In these days of republican extravagance this seems to have come to be a government of the officeholders; by the officeholders for the officeholders.

The governor of Kansas has decided that he will appoint no liquor drinkers to office and the Cincinnati Southern Railroad Company has just issued an order that any of its employees seen in saloons, even when off duty, will be discharged. It is fast coming to pass that the booze drinkers will be tabooed everywhere. No business man wants him and no company will tolerate him. This condition is doing as much or more to produce temperance as the combined efforts of the prohibitionists.

The strike in the department of telegraphers and posts in France has about petered out. The government was able to more than fill the places of the strikers by drafting men from the army who were telegraphers and putting the automobile crop to supply any break in the railway mail service. The public was not largely inconvenienced and the Chamber of Deputies will pass a law prohibiting government employees from joining labor unions.

The U. S. Court of Appeals, at Richmond, Va., has decision in the case of Mayor McCue, hanged at Charlottesville for the murder of his wife, that the insurance company in which he held a policy for $20,000 must pay up. This seems to be a rightful decision. A man who is hanged is no more responsible for it, except in breaking the law, than if he died a natural death.

A LAW has just gone into effect in California that an eating house which dispenses cold storage eggs must make the fact known in letters to be seen across the room, under heavy penalty. Good. Cold storage eggs bear the same relation to the fresh article that excelsior does to shredded wheat biscuit, or more so.

A CAR LOAD of No. 2 red wheat sold at Cincinnati Friday at $1.53 a bushel, the highest price since 1896, when it sold at $2.15 a bushel. Unfortunately most of our farmers sold at less than a dollar. It is the gamblers and the speculators who are reaping the harvest now.

The Florida House voted a $5,000 appropriation for a silver service for the battleship Florida, now under construction.

A CARDINAL principle of the democratic party is a tariff for revenue only, with no more money or taxes wrung from the people than is necessary for an economical administration of the government. The party's so-called representatives in Congress seem to have forgotten this principle or purposely ignore it. Senator Bailey and 16 other Senators elected as democrats, voted for a tariff on iron, while Senator Daniel, of Virginia, lead the fight for a high duty on quebracho, a chestnut bark extract for tanning, and in a speech declared that he wanted to "protect American industries." These supposed representatives of the democratic party would do well to read the democratic platform if their memories of former platforms of the party have failed them.

THE National Daylight Association is trying to get President Taft to take the initiative in a time reform movement, the object of which is to begin the day two hours earlier in the summer time and to give longer hours for afternoon and evening recreation. The proposition is to turn the clock back two hours May 1 to remain in effect until Oct. 4, when the hands shall be returned to the present standard time. The proposition occurs to us to be a foolish one. If those who have the time for afternoon and evening recreation want to enjoy it, they can do so without upsetting the country's time adjustment.

SENATOR ALDRICH says the country is losing ten millions a day by the delay in passing his tariff bill and for that reason he will force a vote on it June 20. If he really believes his assertion he oughtn't to wait a month, but get busy with the vote now. The big Senator from the little State is much more concerned about disturbing the trusts than running the country to costs and he is seeing that they are well taken care of.

H. H. ROGERS, the Standard Oil magnate, after toiling and planning, leaves fifty millions for his heirs to fight over or enjoy. All he gets is what even the pauper is entitled to, six feet of earth. "There are no pockets in a shroud."

EDITOR CECIL WILLIAMS, of the Somerset Times, is a candidate for the position of secretary of the Democratic headquarters committee, with headquarters at Lexington. We hope he will get it.

MATRIMONIAL.

J. B. Quisenberry and Miss Ida Stone, popular young people of Danville, were married in the parlors of the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington. The bride is a daughter of Mr. F. F. Stone and a sister of Mrs. John H. Meier.

Just as the sheriff was leaving with him for the penitentiary to serve one year for malicious shooting, James Bruce was married to Miss Edna Aldridge at Cadiz. The ceremony took place in the parlor of the jailer's home.

Helen Kelly Gould was granted an absolute divorce in New York from Frank J. Gould. Mrs. Gould is granted custody of their children for one portion of each year, and Mr. Gould is to have their custody for the remaining portion.

THE Lot Sale of Florence, Hughes & McCarty was a success. Over 1,000 people were in attendance Saturday afternoon and vacant lots sold all the way from $250 on Whitley Avenue to $1,201 on Logan Avenue. The lots on East Main street, a portion of the Col. Hill home, brought $600 to $800. The Hill home, with some 175 feet frontage on Main street, went to Mr. W. L. McCarty for $3,500. J. W. Dishon bought the Cox farm near Highland for $1,200. The sale amounted to about $12,000 and the promoters are more than satisfied. Some splendid building territory has been opened and it is hoped that those who bought lots will build on them right away. Homes are urgently needed here and our capitalists would find it to their advantage to build a half hundred or so. Col. J. Peter Chandler, the boss auctioneer, cried the sale and did it well. Miss Sallie Taylor Woods, who held ticket 428, drew the free lot—No. 18 on Whitley Avenue—and in a few moments sold it to Attorney George D. Florence for $200. Miss Woods' many friends and admirers congratulate her on her good luck—not in selling the lot, because it was worth more money, but in drawing it. Their first sale being so successful, we hope Messrs. Florence, Hughes & McCarty will have another and not defer the good work long.

WALTON'S OPERA HOUSE was filled to overflowing Thursday night by friends of the Stanford Graded and High School. The occasion was the commencement exercises of that magnificent institution and everybody wanted to be present. A splendid program was rendered, which begun with a piano number by Miss Nancy Yeager, which was splendidly rendered. Rev. D. M. Walker evoked divine blessing on the occasion, after which Miss Ethel Fetto and Rev. J. L. Yandell gave a vocal duet, which greatly pleased their hearers. Dr. H. G. Shearin, professor of English in Transylvania University and president of Hamilton College, addressed the two graduates, Misses Berta Jean Penny and Margaret Warren, and for an hour pointed to them in choice language the road that leads to the making of ideal women; women who make the world better by having lived in it. Dr. Shearin's address was much enjoyed. Miss Lucy Lee Walton next favored the audience with a piano selection and Prof. J. W. Ireland, in a brief and well-worded talk, delivered the diplomas. Next came a piano number by Misses Mary Moore Raney and Annie Davis McRoberts, which brought forth much applause. A number of school boys sang the "Swing Song" and at its conclusion Rev. J. Murray Taylor dismissed the crowd with benediction. The opera house was tastefully decorated and the occasion was a brilliant one.

A DISPATCH from Glasgow says that even baseball players and dudes have been pressed into service in tobacco setting. Our farmers will please take notice. They might also get some assistance from the dozens of loafers who daily hang around the streets.

MEAT STOLEN.—Thieves entered the smokehouse of Col. Hall Anderson, near McKinney, Saturday night and 14 large hams and four middlings were stolen. Lair's bloodhounds were sent for and they trailed to the home of a Negro named Adams, but the house was locked and the occupants gone. We hope the guilty parties will be caught and the severest penalty given the scoundrels.

REID.—Mrs. Erma Morse Reid, wife of Mr. June H. Reid, died at her home in Hustonville at 4 o'clock Sunday morning after a protracted illness of a complication of troubles. She is survived by her husband, two little sons, Murrill and Samuel Reid, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Morse, and one sister, Mrs. J. Roy B. Rose. For them all unbounded sympathy is felt and especially do the hearts of loving friends go out to the husband and the motherless boys. May He care for and watch over them and in His infinite wisdom fill the place of the devoted wife and tender mother. Mrs. Reid was a member of the Christian church and was prepared for the end. Her life had been such that death held no fears for her. The burial occurred in the Hustonville cemetery yesterday afternoon after services at the Christian church by Rev. W. L. Willis. The occasion was a distressingly sad one and there was scarcely a dry eye in the large concourse of friends at the grave.

THE recital given at Walton's Opera House Friday evening by the departments of Vocal and Instrumental Music was greatly enjoyed. A fair crowd was present and liberal applause was given each of the well rendered numbers. Following is the program that was given: Piano—Magic Flute, Mozart, Kate Newland, Frances Cooper, Lucy Lee Walton, Mary Elizabeth McKinney, Bessie Yantis, Berta Jean Penny. Reading—"The Hero of the Day," Adapted, Harris Coleman. Piano—March of the Mariners, Holst, Vera Totten, Effie Baughman, Ella Eichenberger, Josephine Carpenter, Lissa Holtzclaw. Reading—"Grandma Keeler Gets Grandpa Keeler Ready for Sunday School," McLean, Clinton Coleman. Piano—Valse, Wachs, Frances Cooper, Claudia Eaton, Thomas Coleman. Solo—"The Spirit of Spring," Parker, Mr. Yandell. Piano—"Shenandoah," Webb, Nancy Catherine McKinney, Annette Warren, Nellie Wilson Hill, Jessie Lee Phillips. Ladies' Quartet—"A Song of Seasons," C. B. Hawley, Nancy Yeager, Elizabeth Higgins, Grace Brady, Berta Jean Penny. Reading—"Misses Sherwood's Victory," Ogden, Morrison Bright. Piano—Rondo Brilliant, von Weber, Kate Newland. Solo—"A May Morning," L. Denza, Miss Fetto. Piano—Alpine Storm, Kunkel, Anna Davis McRoberts, Josephine Carpenter, Virginia Mahony, Mary Moore Raney. Chorus—"O When 'Tis Summer Weather," Brewer. Misses Ellen Ballou and Ethel Fetto have charge respectively of the instrumental and vocal departments and they are deserving of much praise on the manner in which their pupils acquitted themselves.
